NFTA, Foodbank team up for 'Givin' & Groovin' bus

BUFFALO, N.Y. -- The Food Bank of Western New York is getting out in the community this summer with the NFTA to make sure families in need don't go hungry.

The Givin' and Groovin' bus is a moving donation center.

It will drive around the area to help collect non-perishable food items for the food bank.

Many people think of donating during the colder months and holidays, but the need is just as great this time of year.

"In any given month, the food bank serves as many as 135,000 individuals throughout Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Erie, and Niagara counties," says Catherine Schick, of the Food Bank of WNY.

The bus will be at the Southgate Plaza Transit Center Wednesday, the Tops Markets on Robinson Road and Niagara Falls Boulevard Thursday, and at the Tops Markets at Mid-City Plaza in North Tonawanda on Friday. Each stop is slated for 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. All donors will be entered to win milk for a year from Upstate Farms.

The Niagara Frontier Transportation Authority announced the impressive results of its food drive that garnered 1302 pounds of food to help those served by the Food Bank of WNY.

Wednesday, August 23, 2017 NFTA Metro Groovin' at the Erie County Fair

NFTA Metro was out at the Erie County Fair on August 17-18. The Fair hosted an estimated 1.2 million visitors over the 12-day event and held record temperatures for many of those days.

Metro's display designed in celebration of NFTA's 50th anniversary included our 1967 Summer of Love themed Givin' and Groovin' Nova Bus as well as participation by NFTA staff and our transit police and K9 units.

There were a lot of fun things to do at our display. Both adults and children were excited to board and even "drive" the Metro bus while listening to our special themed G&G Metro Radio.

Fairgoers also had the opportunity to check out our TAPD police vehicles including the 1985 retro-fitted patrol car.

We want to thank everyone who came out to see us and for sharing in some "groovy" transportation-related fun. Stay cool cats – we will see you all again next year!
