About L Jamal Walton

- I have lived in Durham, NC since 1993.
- My favorite comic book character is Spider-Man.
- For food/candy, my favorite flavor is lemon!
- At one point I had a comic book collection of about 30,000 comics!
- The comic book making process has seven main roles. Those roles include publisher, editor, writer, penciller, inker, letterer, and colorist. I have published credits in all seven roles. My first published credit was as an editor.
- I've been creating my own characters since 1985. I created and published my first comic in 1995. In 2004, my characters were first professionally published in Digital Webbing Presents #17. Nate and Leroy: 2 Fresh Forever features characters that I created in the late 1980s. It was drawn and lettered as part of Inktober 2017. Tiegre: East of Warmageddon - Nefele is the most recent publication that features characters that I created. It was published in July 2021.
